'REPUBLICAN GANGSTERS' CONTROL FEED TROUGH

Governor Accused of Taking Bread, Butter and Vote From Hawaiian Mouths

The McAndless wing of the Democracy has started a campaign by mail in which the Governor comes in for a roasting, along the lines of the most approved Panhæstique politics.

Members of the party yesterday received through the mails an envelope full of a circular in pamphlet form, telling how the present Governor of Hawaii had refused to turn the reins out of office when he went in and at low the Democrats to get both front feet into the salary trough at once.

Party Judases Flashed
The pamphlets accuse the Governor of one of the most heinous crimes in the Panhæstique catalogue. They say that he is and always was a Republican. His adherents are classed with the Judases who would sell their party for thirteen pieces of silver or the same number of bowls of poi.

The Governor's "preparedness" program is called "conspiration" in which every able-bodied man in the Territory will be forced into compulsory service. He is blamed for the bringing of the Filipinos to the islands and taking the bread and butter and vote from the mouths of every man, woman and child of Hawaii by so doing.

Watch Out For Traitors
The faithful are warned to watch for the traitors to the party and repudiate Governor Pinkham and his Republican gangsters at the polls on the coming Saturday.

The plea for the so-called regular branch of the party is as follows:
"The Democratic Party of Hawaii has fought for seventeen years for Democratic principles. When a change of national administration came and we should have had locally a good Democratic governor, we got only Pinkham."

What Has Pinkham Done
"He has appointed to heads of departments men only who would give him their undivided allegiance. A condition of the appointments of these men was that they would let the Republican old gang stay in office."

"Here is the Democratic administration Pinkham is giving us.
Pinkham appointed the Republican Doctor Pratt head of the board of health; the old Republican gang, headed by Porter, Klemm, etc., is in control; only one known Democrat in the entire board of health service."

"Pinkham appointed Clifford first, Albert Waterhouse next and C. S. Judd recently, all staunch Republicans, to head the board of agriculture. A forestry, the old Republican gang has, of course, been kept on; no known Democrat in this department; salary roll over $4000 per month."

"Pinkham appointed Stainback, the sugar planter's attorney, as his attorney general; all the old gang in control of the Territory's legal department."

"Pinkham appointed C. S. Forbes as superintendent of public works, chairman of harbor board and public utilities commission. All the old Republican gang controls this department, including Wheeler, Cook, Kane, etc., all vicious and active Republicans."

"Pinkham appointed C. J. McCarthy as treasurer. For the reasons given above, Mr. McCarthy's hands are tied and a large portion of the old Republican force is still employed."

"Pinkham has just appointed B. G. Rivenburgh as head of the board of corrections, the old Republican gang has, of course, been kept on; no known Democrat in this department; salary roll over $4000 per month."

"Pinkham will soon be paid!"

CHINESE WARRIOR IS CALLED HOME TO HELP

Colonel Shao, Hero of Two Wars,
Will Leave Soon

Col. Shao, a hero of two revolutionary wars in China has decided to leave Hawaii for the Orient in the Shinyo Maru, due to arrive here April 28.

He has been called home by the governor general of Kwangtung province, which declared its independence recently. The cablegram asking for Shao's return was as follows:
"The conditions existing make your presence necessary. Do not miss the opportunity to return."
Colonel General Wodan, who won the case against him before the federal immigration officials, in which it was thought to deport him as an anarchist, is Shao's intimate friend. He said last night that he expected the success of the present revolution and hoped to see established the confederation of South China, composed of several states and provinces and having Doctor Sun Yat Sen as the president.

Then eternal peace can be enjoyed in China," said Wodan. "Otherwise there will be no peace. If the confederation is established the capital will be the city of Nanking."

'ALOHA OE' GOTHAM CRAZE New Yorkers Eager For Things Hawaiian 'PARADISE' MUSIC CHARMS

WRITING to the promotion committee, Patrick Gallagher, prominent newspaper man of New York City, says that the premier metropolis of the country has the Hawaii craze. Here is the way Mr. Gallagher gives the story:

"All up and down the Great White Way—in fact, from the Pocantico Hills to Coney Island's silver sands—great, daring bills command the gaze of New York's daily 50,000 visitors as well as millions of mere inhabitants; and the bills say: 'Aloha Oe'."

"The film folk in America have in need to Hawaiian scenery to keep up the 'heart interest' of moving picture crowds. Hawaiian beads are in all the shop windows. Hawaiian stories are the themes wanted in the notices sent weekly by the big magazine editors to their regular national contributors. In the last and most absolute sense of the term, 'Hawaii is on the map' throughout America and particularly in Great New York."

"Visit Wamamaker's or any of the big department stores, where the appeal is made both to the comfort and to the pleasure of the shopping crowd, and per chance you will hear such a burst of applause as to suggest that the Indians have returned from their reservations to retake Manhattan. It is the tribute of a New York crowd to the beauty of 'Aloha Oe,' as played by the orchestra. Visit the phonograph shops, and you will hear it 'canned.' The Italian organ grinders have got it; the German bands are playing it because it is both neutral and nice."

"Some of the wise folk in Park Row attribute this craze for things Hawaiian to clever publicity work directed from Honolulu, but that is not the matter. The fact is that at last the American people have discovered the most beautiful spot on earth and anything which suggests it is seized upon and paraded in triumph."

PREMATURE BLAST INJURES TWO MEN

Guard and Inmate of Insane Asylum Are Badly Mutilated
In Explosion

Manuel Moniz, of 255 Auwahi street, sixty-three years old and a guard for fifteen years in the local insane asylum, and Francisco Dina, a Filipino inmate, twenty-five years old, are in the Queen's Hospital in a condition bordering between life and death as the result of a premature blast in the asylum grounds yesterday while they were working on a roadway which is being built there.

The right side of Moniz' face was almost entirely torn away by the debris from the exploded dynamite. His left arm was broken and he is in danger, if he survives, of losing the sight of one eye, if not of both. The Filipino was badly cut up, small particles of rock imbedding themselves in his flesh, especially about the face and chest. He is not considered in as dangerous a condition as is Moniz, but his sight may have been injured also.

No one seems to know how the accident came about," said Dr. W. A. Schwallie, superintendent of the asylum. "The guard was overseeing work on the road and was near the place where the blast went off. The drill had been completed and the dynamite inserted, it being the practice to have the blasting go off at about noon, when the men knock off for their noonday meal."

"I think that they must have been tampering and that hard particles of stone must have gotten into the drill hole with the soft soil used to tighten the dynamite before it is exploded. The grating of the rocky substance must have forced the cap attached to the powder to explode and the blast went off prematurely."

Moniz has been a guard at the institution for many years and is known to be a very careful man. He is no novice in blasting operations. The superintendent thinks it was an accident, pure and simple, and that no blame can really attach to any one.

The Filipino inmate was a convalescent patient. In fact, he was shortly to be discharged as cured from the asylum.

SAILOR WANTS $21,000 FOR ONE BROKEN ARM

Kim Hong Libels Steamer Claudine For Accident Aboard

A block of ice, a slippery stairway, a dark hold, a fall, a Korean with a broken arm and damages wanted in the sum of $21,000 all figure in an admiralty suit brought in the federal court yesterday by Kim Hong against the steamer Claudine, of which Capt. William G. Bennett is master.

The Claudine was libelled at three o'clock yesterday afternoon and for three-quarters of an hour Manuel Olen, messenger of the marshal's office, remained in charge of the smart little Maui packet. Marshal Smith released the vessel at a quarter to four and the Claudine left for Lahaina and Kahului on schedule time, bound in the sum of $12,000 having been furnished by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, owners of the vessel.

Kim Hong says that during a trip of the Claudine to Kahului, on September 23, 1915, he was told to take a piece of ice into the hold of the vessel, the cooler being for the use of the sailors of the Claudine. While carrying the ice, he claims, he slipped in descending the steps into the hold, the steps having no protecting rail. With the ship went a fall and the fall resulted in Kim Hong breaking his left arm at the elbow. The suit for damages is now on.

'MACHINE' A TYPEWRITER AND NOT CHASE'S AUTO

The "machine" that the clerk of the road department requested Engineer Chase of the Hakipui section to bring to town to be kept in the office, was the telephone yesterday morning acquainted with the fact that the "machine" referred to was a typewriter and not Chase's automobile.

QUACK OF DUCKS DUSTS CACKLE OF HENS IN KAIMUKI

Truly Delightful Profits Made In Raising Pekings and Muscovys

DAWN GREETING ROOSTER MAY BE BANISHED SOON

Pays To Feed Ducklings Properly,
Declares Fancier of Red
Dirt District

The cock's shrill claxon is getting to be a much rarer thing in Kaimuki and other districts of the city than it was a year ago. No more does the cock-a-doodle-do of the dawn-greeting rooster rouse the dwellers of the red dirt district from their beauty sleep or provoke to aerial flight the clothes brush or the flower vase.

Instead, the quack-quack of the domestic duck wakes the echoes, and the voices of the Peking and the Muscovy are heard in the land.

In other words, poultry-minded Honoluluans, and the residents of the Kaimuki district in particular, are devoting their attention to raising ducks rather than chickens. Kaimuki by the way, is admitted by experts to be the best district for raising ducks in or around Honolulu.

Good For Throwing Too
To come down to cases, delightful profits can be made from ducks, and their eggs are good, both for eating and throwing. Speaking of the matter yesterday, a Kaimuki duck-fancier said:

"In classifying the breeds of ducks one naturally excludes the Waikiki kind. A mistake was made in constructing those ducks. The meat was left out and the birds were over-feathered. There are two general classes of ducks, quacking and quackless. The white Peking is the best of the quacking birds, and the colored Muscovy is king of the quackless kinds. The Muscovy must not be confused with the anchoy, which is a fish. There is an increasing interest in real ducks in Honolulu."

Best Chicks Growing
"Ducks grow three times as fast as chickens, provided they are given room to develop. They are not afflicted with roup, sorehead or eye-worm. Sometimes they become lame from corns on their feet developed by chasing cockroaches, spiders and other insects, but this ailment can be readily cured by the application of some simple remedy."

"Peking and Muscovy ducks will reach a size of from four to five pounds at an age of ten weeks, provided they are raised in an honest neighborhood and are given a chance to grow. Well-fattened ducks at this age command a fancy price."

"The swimming tank habit is a mere fact which has long been popular with ducks. They really need no more water than chickens, merely enough for drinking purposes. On commercial ranches no swimming is allowed. These men raise ducks for business, not for aquatic sports."

Decorative Layers
"The hatching process with duck eggs requires from twenty-eight to thirty days. The eggs must be hatched in an incubator or placed under a real hen—not a hen duck. No reliance can be placed on Peking duck mothers. They lay their eggs about the yard in the most careless manner, seemingly striving for decorative effect rather than domestic results. They are suffragettes and show no concern about future generations."

"The excellent Muscovy, on the other hand, is a colonizer and a home builder. He is also a home-defender, and will be the marauding cat or the perambulating pup whose devoted tail comes within nip of the closest-fitting Muscovian mandibles."

"Mrs. Muscovy makes a nest and hatches her own eggs, there being nothing stick-up about her. Mr. Muscovy, who is built along the lines of a heavy-weight wrestler, does the fighting for the whole family, and makes a nice job of it. If there's a fight between a Muscovy drake and a rooster, bet on the drake."

Pays To Feed 'Em
It pays, according to fanciers, to feed ducks carefully. Ducks have not the gizzard of an ostrich and their food should always be soft and moist. For the first ten days of a duckling's life moistened bread and hard-boiled eggs with grit will keep him happy. After that finely chopped cabbage or other green stuff, corn meal, bran, finely ground home, meat, beef scraps, and sour milk will make an attractive menu. There was a boy once who successfully reared a family of young ducks on a diet of doughnuts and gingerale, but this course is not generally recommended.

Ducks want water served with the meals. They will, of course, keep alive, even if they have to find their own means. In that case they are merely ducks. If, however, duck-meat be wanted, it is advisable to cultivate Peking or Muscovy ducks, and feed them.

NO OFFICIAL REPORT OF POSTOFFICE THEFT

There has been no news received at the local post-office regarding the theft of the bag containing $1000 in gold stolen from the Nanihale, Hawaii, post office a week ago. Postal Inspector Flavin, who is investigating the matter, either had nothing to report or decided that he would await further developments before making his report to the office here.

Trenches to the southwest of the crater. Renewed fighting in East

Petrol reports renewed fighting along the eastern front. Flooded trenches have been forcing the Germans out of several positions, and they have been attempting to pump the water out of these trenches and hold water out of them as they are now being bailed and the pumps demolished by the heavy guns of the German forces on the Deira front. Here, too, says the official communique of last night, there was a heavy artillery and infantry duel. In the Komara marshes the Germans tried to break through the British lines, but their attempt was balked by the British cannon.

The German aviators, however, did a little better than their infantry, for they dropped bombs upon the Russian infantry posts on the Oginski canal, inflicting considerable loss.

The Russians farther south also report success, for a line of German trenches on the Stripa river front were captured by a determined attack, and many prisoners were taken.

Lake Forced To Retire
The British war office press bureau last night issued an official statement covering the last futile attempt on the part of Sir Percy Lake, commanding the British columns on the lower Tigris, to break through the German lines, the beleaguered British troops in Kut-el-Amara. Hampered by floods of the river, says the statement, General Lake's men were unable to break through the heavy line of Turkish trenches cutting them off from their imprisoned comrades, and were forced to fall back to their former positions.

On the Italian-Austrian front the soldiers of Victor Emmanuel report a decided gain in their fight to drive back Franz Josef's men. Their guns set on fire the town of Colonnazzo, and a line of advanced Austrian trenches fell into their hands after a prolonged series of assaults. Sperone was the scene of hard fighting, with the fortunes of war going to the Italians.
